Molotov Prevents Big 4 Consideration Of German Problem

Dispute Over Red China Stalls Talks

By Daniel De Luce

Berlin (AP) — Russia stalled the Berlin conference yesterday from taking up the German peace problem and fought to compel the big Western powers to recognize Red China as an equal.

Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov refused to accept an allied "No" to a Big Five parley with the Chinese Communists on World disarmament and trade in May or June.

He countered with an 80-minute speech repeating his Big Five proposal in detail and conjuring up a prospect of settlements in Asia from such a talk.

Spearheading the Western opposition, Secretary of State Dulles said he declined to "fitter away our time in discussing whether and how to set up a new conference" instead of getting started on the unification of Germany and granting Austria independence.

He emphasized these two problems were the whole purpose of the Big Four meeting here. If they are solved, "then, and then only, can we stand before the world as capable of assuming other and heavier tasks," he concluded.

France's Georges Bidault, backing up Dulles, said the Big Five parley would serve no good so long as Peiping was "indirectly supporting" the Vietnamese rebels in Indochina.

He frankly told Molotov, who was his dinner host Tuesday night: "You disapprove of the regime I represent, but I in turn disapprove of yours."

Bidault added, however, that if the facts and situation of the Red Chinese rulers were to change, a Big Five meeting might ultimately be considered.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, chairman for the day, advised Molotov that Peiping would first prove its sincerity for world peace by enabling the Korean political conference to get started.

If the German and Austrian questions were solved here, Eden said, the Big Four would be better situated to look at other questions.

All the Western arguments for taking up the German settlement without further delay rolled off Molotov's black-suited back. Although he had waived at the outset of yesterday's session the right to speak again on Peiping's behalf, he launched into a carefully prepared address as soon as the West rested.

Molotov hinted the French might get a settlement of the seven-year-old war in Indochina by playing ball with Red China.

State Reports $15,000 Drop In Bounty Claims

Harrisburg (AP) — Pennsylvania hunters collected about $15,000 less in bounties for animals and birds killed during the last seven months of 1953 than in the same period the previous year, it was learned yesterday.

Between June and December of last year the bounty claims section of the State Game Commission paid $74,103 in bounties as compared with $89,862 paid for kills during the same period in 1952.

"The decrease in bounties paid could reflect a drop in the state population of destructive birds and animals," said Harold L. Plasterer, section supervisor.

"However," he added, "we can not get too excited about this drop, because it might have been caused by hunters losing interest in stalking bounty game or they're not bothered to claim bounties when they did make a kill."

Democrat Quits Security Post

Washington (AP) — William D. Huskey, a State Department security agent who has guarded scores of visiting foreign dignitaries, has quit his post with a declaration that it was "impossible" to work under Scott McLeod, the department's chief of security.

Huskey, a Democrat who has been with the department 12 years, told newsmen yesterday that the agency was riddled with "fear and intimidation." He said McLeod had put impossible restrictions on his work.

Imbt Firm Begins Widening Of Effort Mountain Highway

Effort—Widening of 16.75 miles of Route 115 from Broadheadville to Blakeslee is under way here.

Employees of Herbert R. Imbt, State College, moved heavy equipment into the region this week and have started to widen the mountain road section.

While no completion date has been announced from Harrisburg, according to Arthur Dinstel, supervisor for Monroe County State Highway Department, weather conditions will play a major role toward a speedy finish, a foreman said yesterday.

Plans call for widening the road from two to three lanes, with the northbound, upgrade-center lane to serve as the passing zone. No passing will be permitted by southbound vehicles on the mountain section once the road is finished.

An existing concrete-reinforced arch bridge is listed for extension along with six reinforced concrete bridges. Present bridge floors will be replaced with plain concrete wearing surfaces.

The widening project extends on Route 115 from Broadheadville to Blakeslee, or from Route 209 to Route 940.

Huge Refinancing Operation Mapped By U.S. Treasury

Washington (AP) — The most gigantic refinancing operation in U. S. history was undertaken yesterday, under it the Treasury will seek to convert 21 billion dollars of five outstanding security issues into two new issues.

Three major aims were seen in the big transaction:

One—To take advantage of comparatively low interest rate. The demand for money has fallen off, as shown by a decrease in bank loans, and hence interest rates are lower than some experts figure they might be later.

Two—To convert more of the government's securities into medium or long term obligations, if possible.

Three—To reduce the number of maturities of government securities.

New Deal Tag Rejected By Eisenhower

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower said yesterday his administration is both liberal and conservative in handling economic affairs.

He bristled a bit in rejecting any idea that his legislative program is merely an extension of the Democratic "New Deal."

The budget offers the best comment on that, Eisenhower said at his news conference. He said former President Truman's budget was heading further and further into debt and at an increasing rate, whereas his own budget seeks to reduce government spending and go the other way.

The President also said that: "There will be no harsh treatment for former war prisoners who leaned toward Communism for a while."

He has not switched at all in his position on farm price supports.

Associates in Congress tell him they still hope for a compromise on the Bricker constitutional amendment to limit treaty making powers.

He is backing up Secretary of State Dulles on the front line at the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Berlin.

Dulles has rejected Russian Foreign Minister Molotov's demand that Red China be included in a Big Five meeting on world problems.

Gibbons Murder Weapon Sought

Levittown, Pa. (AP) — Police kept looking yesterday for the gun used in the rape-slashing of 15-year-old Maria Gibbons.

Gibbons, wife of George Capps, accused of killing the girl, said she was sickening by her husband.

The developments followed a police announcement that the 22-year-old Capps had confessed he killed the high school sophomore at a nearby lake after assaulting her in the back seat of his car.

State police pressed the search for the .32 caliber gun which Capps said he threw onto a sand bar in the lake. They issued public appeals to residents of the area to turn in the gun if it were found.

They emphasized that it was important evidence.

Funds Approved For Red Probes

Washington (AP) — Nearly half a million dollars for investigating Communist activities was voted or cleared for floor action in the Senate yesterday.

The full Senate gave $228,000 to its internal security subcommittee, headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.).

The Rules Committee, headed by Jenner, recommended $216,000 for Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and his permanent investigations subcommittee.

McCarthy planned at one time to ask $350,000 but scaled down his request when some Democrats threatened to fight any increase.

Thief Surprised

Flint, Mich. (AP) — The thief who looted the home of William Hewitt is in for a surprise. He stole $18 in cash, a $10 wrist watch, and a whiskey bottle. The bottle contained tea.

FTC Launches Inquiry Into Coffee Prices

Washington (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission, with the blessing of President Eisenhower, yesterday launched a full-scale investigation to find out whether the high price of coffee is due to speculation and monopoly.

The Senate committee also said they also are looking into the situation which has put retail coffee prices above $1 a pound and threatens even higher prices.

But there was no immediate indication the price would come back down. Trade sources have insisted there just isn't enough coffee to meet the demand. The supply shortage, not speculation, has brought on the price rise, they said.

President Eisenhower brought up the subject of coffee near the start of his news conference, and the White House later authorized direct quotation of his remarks announcing the FTC study.

"On Jan. 13 they started a preliminary investigation to see what was the trouble about. Coffee prices in this country," Eisenhower said, "and they discovered something that they thought a full-scale investigation was indicated, and is going to take place."

"Now the chairman said that the commission will give particular attention to the charge that domestic trading in coffee futures on the coffee and sugar exchange is restricted to certain types of coffee, and that all domestic coffee prices are tied in in some ways to the exchange price."

"What it all means and it comes down to," the President summarized, "is that they are going to try to determine, first, whether the law has been violated and, secondly, to publish all the facts in an economic report."

"Of course, the commission will maintain liaison with the Department of Justice."

FTC Chairman Edward F. Hoover later announced the commission has reason to believe the price rises "may have resulted from unfair methods of competition and monopolistic practices."

In New York the National Coffee Assn. said it welcomed the FTC investigation, which it said would "acquaint the American public with the facts."

21 Americans Go With Reds

Pennsboro, N.J. (AP) — Twenty-one Americans began loading their belongings aboard trucks today for a trip behind the Bamboo Curtain into an uncertain future.

The 21, all of whom chose to stay with the Reds—tossed large packs into Communist Red Cross trucks that rumbled down from North Korea to take them back into Communist country.

The Americans carried flags and banners emblazoned with the Communist "peace dove."

Also, 355 Koreans and one Briton were going with the Communists.

The Americans, all dishonorably discharged from the U. S. Army, have said they want to "fight for peace" from the Communist side.

Seven South Korean barbers gave the former Red-held prisoners haircuts before their departure.

Scalded Baby Barred From One Hospital, Dies After Removal To Second Institution

Chicago (AP) — Coroner Walter E. McCarron said yesterday he will check emergency treatment arrangements in every hospital in Cook County because a scalded baby died after it was moved from one hospital to another.

State's Atty. John Gutknecht announced he has asked a reappraisal of all tax-exempt hospitals in the country to determine if they qualify for the listing as tax free "because they are truly charitable or beneficial institutions."

Gutknecht said Woodlawn Hospital from which the scalded child was turned away had been granted such tax exemption.

The baby, 5-month-old Laura Helen Lingo, was scalded by a vaporizer Jan. 17. Mrs. Irene Lingo, 23, the mother, testified at the coroner's inquest Tuesday that an intern at Woodlawn Hospital barred her baby from remaining there because she could not put up a deposit of $100.

The baby then was transferred to Cook County Hospital, where free treatment is provided. The baby died the next day.

McCarron declared the hospital did "too much bartering for money." Hospital officials declined to comment.

McCarron told newsmen he will check all hospitals to determine how emergency cases are handled when deposits cannot be made.

Uranium Discovered Near Mauch Chunk; Experimental Mining To Start In Spring

Philadelphia (AP) — The president of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co. said yesterday that uranium has been discovered near Mauch Chunk in Carbon County and his firm will start mining it in the Spring.

Robert V. White, head of the LCN firm, said the first mining operations would be carried out in a "very small way" to determine whether it would be economically feasible to expand the operations.

Uranium is the chemical element used in all atomic energy projects.

White said test borings made last year at Mt. Pisgah had definitely established the presence of the uranium "some of it at road level."

The company then negotiated with the Atomic Energy Commission to sell the uranium mined in this first phase to the AEC.

The first phase, White said, will be purely exploratory to find out how much it will cost to mine the metal, and whether the metal is located in large or small veins.

The larger the vein the less expensive the metal is to pry from the earth.

Mauch Chunk lies athwart the anthracite coal belt, now plagued by unemployment because of the falling consumption of hard coal.

A boom in the mining of uranium might go a long way toward restoring the economic health of the entire upper eastern part of Pennsylvania.

Nearly $6,000 Still Needed To Put Polio Drive Over Top Despite Successful 'March'

The polio campaign fund stood last night at $10,170.85. It was a long way from the $16,000 needed by the county.

Despite the successful Mothers March Tuesday night, the fund to date remains only 64 per cent of the total needed, pointed out Richard R. Freudenberg, campaign chairman.

The biggest thing which has kept the current campaign from measuring up to last year's, he said, is the lack of response from coin cards or donation envelopes.

Only about 1,400 have been returned to chapter headquarters. A total 8,700 were mailed out.

"Those envelopes are still lying in the people's homes," said Freudenberg. "I believe they'll send them in—if they remember to do it. I think everyone knows how serious the situation is this year, and how much the funds are needed—when we're right on the verge of knocking it out for good with the new vaccine . . ."

Mothers March Chairman Marie Brown reported additional receipts from mothers in outlying districts yesterday afternoon.

Another $4 came from Barrett; $17.35 from Polk; $3 from Pocono Lake; Stroudsburg's corrected total was $1,427.19, and Smithfield had a total $329.81. More dollars were due from the West End and from Middle Smithfield, she said.

Senator Offers Substitute For Bricker Measure

Washington (AP) — Sen. George (D-Ga.) entered the battle over the Bricker amendment yesterday with a substitute stating that any international agreement is invalid if it conflicts with the Constitution.

George made his unexpected move as the Senate plunged into debate on the controversial plan of Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to put a rein on the President's treaty-making powers by constitutional amendment.

The George substitute got in ahead of another being drafted by Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, and may cause the Knowland proposal to be withheld.

Open New Offensive

Saigon, Indochina (AP) — Vietnamese rebels, seizing the initiative again in central Indochina, have launched a tough offensive on a 187-mile front and captured two French Union posts within 24 hours.

Police officials said there were no dead and only a few injured.

The flames were brought under control after an hour's fight. More than 25,000 persons jammed into the area, hampering firemen and rescue workers.

Damage to nearby buildings in the crowded area was not estimated.

Two Hanged For Jungle-Slaying

Guam, Thursday (AP) — Two Air Force enlisted men were hanged here today for the 1948 jungle rape-murder of pretty Ruth Farnsworth, 27, of San Francisco.

The pair, Herman T. Dennis, 25, of Indianapolis, and Robert W. Burns, 36, of Spokane, Wash., walked separately to their deaths up the 17 steps to a 10 foot high gallows.

The Farnsworth girl, a civilian employee of the Navy, was found battered and unconscious in dense jungle back of the curio shop where she worked nights. She had been dragged there Dec. 11 and died two days later in a hospital.

State GOP Chiefs Meet With Ike

By J. Frank Tragle

Washington (AP) — Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood of Pennsylvania emerged beaming from a conference with President Eisenhower yesterday and announced proudly that the President had promised to support him in his bid for the Keystone State governorship.

The White House meeting highlighted a day in which Wood and other Pennsylvania Republicans met in what appeared to be harmonious fellowship.

Wood, the choice of Pennsylvania Republican leaders to head the party's ticket this year, was obviously pleased by the day's events.

At an earlier luncheon in the Capital he had asked the state's Republican congressional delegation and the visiting party leaders to close ranks and work as a team for victory next fall.

This theme was emphasized by the fact that representatives of the state's various Republican factions, as well as many who have taken a neutral position in earlier squabbles, all attended the luncheon. If there were any hard feelings they weren't apparent to reporters.

Among those present were Wood, G. Mason Ouellet, Republican National committee chairman; State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, state Republican chairman; Robert C. Duffy, Republican chairman of Philadelphia; Fred C. Peters, Montgomery County Republican chairman; Sen. Martin and Duffy and Rep. Simpson, dean of the Pennsylvania Republican delegation in Congress and chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee.

Wood, Martin, Duffy, Peters, Ouellet, Taylor, Duffy and Rep. McCannell, whose Montgomery County district includes Wood's home town, made the White House visit.

Wood told reporters afterward that the President was pleased to hear of the harmony that had been brought about by his fellow Keystone State Republicans.

"The President said he hoped to be one of my constituents one of these days and that he certainly is on my team," Wood said.

Mexican Theater Swept By Flames

Mexico City (AP) — The Granat Theater in downtown Mexico City was reported completely destroyed last night by fire which followed what was believed to be an explosion.

The theater has a seating capacity of 3,500.

Police officials said there were no dead and only a few injured.

The flames were brought under control after an hour's fight. More than 25,000 persons jammed into the area, hampering firemen and rescue workers.

Damage to nearby buildings in the crowded area was not estimated.

Lester Stevens Dies At Home In Township

Lester G. Stevens, 68, of Chipperfield Drive, Stroud Township, died at 2:20 a.m. yesterday in his home.

Flory Outlines Program For East Borough; Harris Tells Of Accomplishments

Jesse S. Flory and Hal H. Harris, chief burgesses of East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg, respectively, discussed borough plans and accomplishments at the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club meeting yesterday afternoon at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. John J. Coveley was program chairman.

Mr. Flory went into detail on the plans for improvements in East Stroudsburg, some of which he said would require considerable time in study and putting them into operation.

After telling the duties of the burgess, he outlined plans for extension of the police call system and referred to the police as "good will ambassadors" of the community. He looked forward to the time citizens would realize police are a part of the borough government and that they have responsibilities.

Future street construction, garbage collection, storm sewer construction in the center of the community, the parking problems and a new bridge between the boroughs over Broadheads Creek, possibly from W. Broad St., East Stroudsburg, to N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, were all dwelt upon. The burgess also spoke of the need of more street markers, the formation of a shade tree commission, commending Stroudsburg for its work in this line, also continuation of the recreation program at the playground and swimming pool, and extension of the borough water system.

Mr. Flory declared that if people want something, they must be willing to pay for it, urging co-operation between the public and borough government, to the extent they would speak of "my police force, my borough" and the like.

Chief Burgess Harris, in his remarks, dwelt mostly on past accomplishments and methods pursued in bringing them about. He spoke also of plans for extensive street construction work and completion of the sewer system this year.

With the completion of the sewer system every section of the borough will be served at a cost of $540,000, he declared. Mr. Harris dwelt on the importance of knowing where the money is for improvement and how to get it and went into detail about numerous accomplishments in past years.

Burgess Harris told how the borough with the assistance of the then State Senator Harvey Huffman made possible extension of the highway system in all directions branching out of Stroudsburg. The late Gov. Gifford Pinchot, who made $250,000 available was also credited for his part in the projects.

When Foxtown Hill highway was built, the state was building 18-foot highways. He said he wanted it 40 feet in the borough and this was accomplished with the contribution of $22,000 from the Monroe County Commissioners. Harris also told how the old Seventh St. bridge over McMichael's Creek was taken over and the present structure built.

The speaker also dwelt on the extension of the sewer system taking care of the local teachers college. Many East Stroudsburg people are being served by this extension, he said.

PWA had a big part in projects carried out in the past years, he told, including streets, flood control and swimming pool, etc.

He said from $60,000 to $75,000 would be spent on streets during the present year and with the cost of the sewer extension some $700,000 would be expended in all.

Richard Fredenberg, chairman of the March of Dimes campaign, spoke briefly of the present campaign, giving praise to the women of Monroe County for their successful Mothers' March on Polio Tuesday night. He said nine Monroe County people suffering with polio were aided last year, leaving a deficit of $3,200 for the year. Two children are still being aided, he said. Mr. Fredenberg asked that everything possible be done to reach the goal of $16,000 for the year.

The monthly meeting of the officers and directors will be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel next Monday at 5 p.m.

State Police Detail Settled In Modern Quarters At Fern Ridge Along Route 115

Fern Ridge. Members of the seven-man State police detail assigned to new and modern quarters in the Ira Knorr Log Cabin annex along Route 115 here are in full operation after moving from Brodheadsville.

Probably one of the most commodious sub-stations in the state, the barracks have full facilities and up-to-date living quarters for the detachment under the direction of Cpl. Melvin Reese.

The shift here from the Brodheadsville barracks which Troop "A" of the Third Squadron occupied seven years was made Jan. 16.

Pittsburgh's Mayor Signs Wage Tax Law

Pittsburgh. Mayor David L. Lawrence signed a 1 per cent wage tax into law yesterday with the declaration that "such forthright action is what the citizens desire from their public officials."

His action, which puts the tax into effect March 1, came shortly after he asked an arm of the state legislature to study the commonwealth's financial structure to see if the state can't give more aid to cities such as Pittsburgh.

Lawrence, a Democrat elected to an unprecedented third four-year term last November with the strong support of organized labor, said the city could have avoided a wage tax if it had decided to lower municipal service standards.

"We could have dodged the whole issue and plunged the city into the dark hole of debt," the mayor declared.

Taking note that labor and some segments of the Democratic party opposed a wage levy, Lawrence asserted:

"The politician with no sense of responsibility is the worst enemy of democratic government."

In a letter to the Joint State Government Commission, the legislature's fact finding body, Lawrence said taxpayers in large cities pay far more than their per capita share of state revenue. He added that "this fact is ignored" when the state passes out funds for schools, highways, public health and local government.

Bill To Prevent Bridge Closing Urged

Group Moves To Restrict Agency Powers

A Pennsylvania group headquartered in Portland is moving to get a bill introduced into the State Legislature which would shear the Toll Bridge Commission of some of its powers and would forestall closing of the old free Delaware Bridge.

The report was released last night by Fred W. Fuchs, Belvidere, following a meeting at his home of the Delaware River Interstate Citizens' Association (DRICA).

Last night's session was to draft a letter to the governor of New Jersey about the bridge.

Wrote the group in part: "... We have worked hard and long to forestall closing of the bridge ... and are fully supported by residents of the areas affected ..."

"... We know you have given serious thought and consideration to this matter and we urge you therefore to give approval to Senate Bill 14 (introduced by Wayne Dumont Jr., R-Warren County) by affixing your signature at the soonest possible date ..."

Signers included representatives of 19 civic, trade and local government organizations.

Fuchs said three Pennsylvania DRICA members: Arthur Bartlett, Portland, William Brodt and Henry Webb were now planning to have a similar bill introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature, but he didn't know when.

Civil Defense Test Uncovers Pressing Need To Expand Monroe County's Organization

Monroe County's Civil Defense organization is due for expansion. That was one lesson learned in last night's Eastern-area C.D. test exercise, said County Assistant C.D. Director Paul Crawn.

At least the headquarters will have to be enlarged.

Crawn said the volume of questions, problems and tests poured in on the local organization showed that efficiency and adequate response requires about three times as large a staff, more telephones, and floor space.

Nevertheless, said Crawn, the county organization responded well.

The questions fired over the airwaves and by telephone from the control center, after Reading was theoretically bombed, concerned such things as the availability of doctors, resources, blood supplies, specialists, lab technicians, mobile medical units, ambulances, debris clearing units and police forces.

A few of the answers sent back by Monroe County residents that 10,000 refugees could be housed here; that 50 policemen could be sent to Reading (the rest would be needed here to care for the large refugee load); and a number of trucks, steam shovels and bulldozers for clearing away wreckage.

One unplanned incident was the electrical storm which made shortwave signals unreadable about halfway through the exercise. The rest of the communications were carried out by telephone. But Crawn added that local shortwave communications remained good. The radio network was used to get quick answers from zone headquarters for relay to the control center.

Similar exercises will be held about every two months. A county-wide drill is also in the offing, Crawn said.

Electrical Storm Breaks Over Region

A summer-like shower punctuated by sharp flashes of lightning and loud claps of thunder broke over the Poconos late yesterday afternoon, but the Weather Bureau warned that the unseasonal turn of events was no indication that even Spring was near at hand.

In fact, it predicted that a mass of cold air would soon push the warm front out of the region and bring snow flurries with it.

The weatherman, in explaining the electrical storm, said the turbulent break was the result of warm air in the 60s colliding with cold air in the 20s along the Pennsylvania-New York border.

Albany, N. Y. (AP) — The weatherman threw the book at up-state New York last night — snow, sleet, hail, freezing rain, fog and a freakish June-in-January thunder-and-lightning storm.

Driving conditions were about as bad as they could get with the roads open.

State police reported virtually all upstate highways "very slippery" and driving "extremely hazardous."

Snow, sleet in some parts and rain in others fell over most of the state after a bout with fog, sleet and hail.

A fake thunderstorm, punctuated by lightning flashes, moved across the southern tier and the Hudson Valley, accompanied by sleet that left the ground white.

Future Teachers Hear Addresses

Future Teachers of America, State Teachers College chapter, met last night in the campus auditorium.

Albert DeSousa, a student teacher and Dr. George Eichler, superintendent of Northampton County schools, were the speakers.

DeSousa discussed teacher tenure.

Collision Occurs At Water Gap

Delaware Water Gap. Two cars collided here at 11:20 a.m. yesterday causing about $350 damages and resulting in minor injuries to one passenger.

Police Chief Fred Decker identified the motorists as Mrs. Margaret B. Osun, Delaware, N. J., and Delphine W. Laubengieger, Montoursville, Pa.

Charles Osun, husband of the driver of one car, was taken to the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, by Chief Decker. He was treated for bruises and cuts, then released.

According to Chief Decker, Mrs. Osun was attempting to drive onto the new highway leading to the Delaware River bridge when the other car, heading towards the bridge, crashed into the front end of her car.

Mrs. Osun, Decker said, was traveling west on old Route 611 and Maple Lane. Damage to her car was estimated at $250 and to the other vehicle, $300.

Memorials are intended for perpetual records of loved ones who have been here before us.

The Deficit's Enemy

The Post Office Department has been in the red so long that some people think that's where it is supposed to be. Actually there is no reason why it shouldn't collect enough postage to pay for carrying the mails. These deficits simply have become a habit if not a tradition. Congress has gone on paying them because it was easier than raising rates. Some Postmasters General have been equally complacent.

But the man President Eisenhower picked to head this important department, Arthur Summerfield, is different. He says the postal system can pay its way and he will see to it that it does if Congress will let him.

He is standing firm on his request for substantial postage rate increases and meanwhile is carrying out economies within the department that are saving the taxpayers a lot of money.

Naturally he has encountered plenty of opposition. Not from the public—a poll shows that a large majority of Americans think mail should pay its way—but from those who are being subsidized by the taxpayers.

This newspaper is against all such subsidies and agrees heartily with Mr. Summerfield that it is wrong and ought to be eliminated. We commend his proposals to Congress and to the taxpayers, who have been paying for subsidies too long.

Stranger Than Fiction

Ernest Hemingway, the big man who was one of the first of the writing fraternity to parlay strong words of one syllable into successful best-selling books and magazine articles, has just lived through a adventure stranger than much of the fiction he has been writing for the last 30 years.

With his wife and other members of a hunting party in Africa, Hemingway survived two plane crashes in rapid succession and walked away from both of them to write, probably, a yarn involving just such an implausible situation.

Few men in our time have lived a life more replete with action of the more violent sort. Starting as an ambulance driver with the Italian army in World War I, Hemingway has never been very far from some sort of hazardous enterprise. Big-game hunting is his most popular relaxation, but he also goes in for deep sea fishing, bull fighting, and similar activities from which he not only derives much personal enjoyment but a highly lucrative return from stories and movies about them.

This most recent adventure of the big man, who affects a beard from time to time, came as a result of a side trip from the safari on which he was occupied, as he and his wife took time out to do a little sight-seeing. The plane in which they were flying to look at the magnificent Murchison Falls on the Victoria River crash-landed, and the rescue plane sent after them crashed on takeoff, with consequent initial rumors to the effect that the author and his party had perished.

Twice in a very short time is slightly better than par for the course, it would seem, and the Hemingway party came out finally by boat, to renew their active gun-and-camera hunt for any wild animal they might encounter. Stranger than fiction, indeed.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

(The scene is the Pantheon on the morning after the 27th. It's a raw deal.)

—A voice from the crowd—
"Found them, I found them, abandoned by the Communies."

First Soldier—So this is it? Freedom, a load of liberty with no place to go!

Second Soldier—It can't be. They wouldn't do this to us!

First Soldier—Okay. So hop into the deluxe cars which ain't here and tell the high-society Commie who is nowhere around where you want to go on the map we ain't got!

Second Soldier—Cripes! Everybody free but us? What can we do?

First Soldier—Phone your lawyer! Maybe you can sue Russia or Red China for breach of promise or maybe desertion. What's eatin' you? The gates are open.

Second Soldier—Yeah. I just looked out. I never seen no gates so wide open which didn't mean a thing. I yelled for help and got no answer.

Voice—Listen and you'll get an answer. It will come in terrible laughter across the hills... the laughter of scoundrels and double-dealers. You will hear leering chuckles of an enemy who promised you brotherhood. You will hear brief, sardonic sentences. "So what?" and "You asked for it."

First Soldier (at an open gate)—You can't even see anybody.

Voice—You're wrong, soldier. You can see a dark figure called Indifference... You can see shadowy forms of characters known as Scorn, Unconcern and Brutality.

Second Soldier—What's that cheering away off somewhere?

Voice—That's for the thousands who chose democracy. And there's the laughter of men who held true... it's the laughter of those who can see, however remotely, their loved ones and their freedoms... men who make no avowal of liberty for tyranny.

First Soldier—Where's the guys who gave us all those lectures, told us about the wonders of life under the Communies, said, "Join our side and see things straight," and handed out so many promises?

Second Soldier—I hear plenty of whippers, Bud, but they all say one word. "Sucker!"

Y'LL HUFF, AND I'LL BLUFF!

Bureau Of Customs Will Abandon Ship Inspection

Washington — The Bureau of Customs is headed for an extraordinary innovation.

The agency, one of the oldest in the government, is preparing to abandon its historic function of inspecting incoming vessels to prevent smuggling, particularly of narcotics.

More than 60 per cent of dope seizures are by Customs agents. Last year they scored some particularly large ones.

But under an unannounced plan, these shipboard searches will be dropped. In fact, they are already being drastically curtailed. At present, Customs is checking only one out of four cargo items and that number will shortly be cut still further to one out of six.

Reason for this new policy is deep slashes in the Bureau's operating funds.

They have been reduced by upwards of $1,000,000, which, in turn, has compelled the elimination of 324 Customs agents. More cuts of this kind are proposed in the new budget.

Under this economy program, first-hand inspections by agents will be replaced by written reports by ship officers.

Baltimore has been tentatively selected as the "pilot" port for a trial of the plan. Others listed for similar tests by spring are Philadelphia, New Orleans, Los Angeles, Boston and Portland.

Inside Tip-Off — The extraordinary innovation was discovered by members of the Senate Appropriations Committee in two private memorandums.

One is an inter-office message to Customs officials throughout the country; the other a similar communication from the American Presidents Line to its branch managers.

The appropriations committee who uncovered the backstage development are demanding a "full explanation" from Treasury Secretary Humphrey; the Customs Bureau is under his jurisdiction. Senator Harley Kefauver (D, W. Va.), leader of the group, is seeking answers to a number of specific questions.

Chief of them is the vitally important problem of security protection.

Kefauver is pointing out that the danger of smuggling "suitcase atomic bombs" into the U. S. is so real and terrifying that the National Security Council has had two extended discussions of this menace. President Eisenhower personally presided at both these meetings of the top policy agency.

The Customs Bureau's memo is explicit regarding what is happening. It states in part, "The new policy will eliminate the George Sokolsky Says...

Bricker Amendment Raises Question Over U. S. Getting Stuck With Berlin Zone

General Lucius D. Clay, stating opposition to the Bricker Amendment, has this to say:
"... The necessity of calling Congress into special session and, even if Congress were already in session, holding 200 million people in a zone without an entrance or an exit."
The American government should have known in 1943 (Teheran) and February, 1945 (Yalta) that Soviet Russia was no longer our ally. The zoning of Berlin was finally arranged by a declaration signed by Allied commanders at Berlin June 5, 1945. By that time there could have been no doubt as to Russia's duplicity. Nevertheless, the Americans went ahead accepting a zone without an entrance or an exit.

And while "American" public opinion excited itself over the Berlin Airlift, which should never have been necessary, Soviet Russia literally walked off with China. So we got the zone of a German city and the Russians got China!

This is precisely the major reason for the stirring campaign for the Bricker Amendment. It is beyond belief that at the two Quebec Conferences, at several Moscow Conferences, at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam deals were made and agreements signed which have, from any standpoint, involved us in a state of permanent war.

It is true that if the Bricker Amendment is adopted it will no longer be permissible to avoid writing a treaty over matters which truly require treaties; it will no longer be possible to do by Executive Agreement that which rightfully belongs in a treaty.

Green Haywood Hackworth, legal adviser to the State Department, in 1940, before a Committee of Congress, stated:

"From the point of view of international law, treaties and Executive Agreements are alike in that both constitute equally binding obligations upon the nation."

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

A lawyer of my acquaintance told me that only about 10 per cent of the cases he handles ever go to court.

The same holds true with most of the attorneys he knows. There is the old story about the fellow who wanted to bring suit against another man. His lawyer advised him against it. The man insisted. "All right," said the attorney, "I'll fight for you to your last dollar."

And he did. My lawyer showed me a copy of a will the other day on which a would-be client asked him to bring suit. The man was, according to all appearances, a crackpot. (By the way, if you want to call a fellow a crackpot, you can now use a much more refined expression. I am stealing this from Louis Sobel, my fellow columnist, who cannot remember from whom he stole it. "Don't call a man a crackpot," said Sobel "call him a psycho-ceramic.") It sounds so much nicer and means the same thing.

This psycho-ceramic found the will among a lot of old papers in his attic. It was dated 1799 and was just about ready to fall apart when the P-C discovered it.

According to the will, he would have owned more than half of the Connecticut city of Danbury if the maker of the will had not been a crackpot himself.

After a brief remark, it was discovered that the maker of the will had been a troublemaker as far back as 1799 and that he gave up his connection with this world in a mental institution, which, in those days, was called a lunatic asylum.

The will was returned to its finder and I am informed that some finder has tried a half dozen other attorneys in the vain attempt to get one to "fight for him to his last dollar."

I am quite sure that "going to law" has caused more nervous breakdowns and other mental upsets than all the cigarettes smoked in this country have caused lung cancer.

In addition, legal fights bring out the very worst traits in both the plaintiffs and the defendants. They make liars out of the apparently most respectable people. If I had a dollar for every bit of perjury committed in the courts of this land I would be a very, very wealthy man.

And just look at the awful billingsgate speeded by both husbands and wives in divorce cases! It seems that when a husband really gets mad at his wife—or vice versa—there isn't a single thing that is private any longer, there is nothing that is sacred, nothing that is too vile to drag out into public view.

I have always tried to think of human beings as something created in the image of their maker. Else, why would there be so much kindness, so much charity, so much love, so much Godliness in them?

But every once in a while, when I am afraid that I am getting a bit too soft about the human race, I go to a court, listen to and look at the parties involved and become a thorough misanthrope.

Fortunately these depressive moods don't last very long. After all, when I want to see what's for dinner I don't look in the garbage can.

Colonel Duffy spotted an Indian sending up smoke signals in the desert with a fire extinguisher strapped to his side. The rugged Redskin explained, "If no misapprehension word, we erasum."

There are two barbershops next to one another at Miami Beach and the competition is furious. One day the barber on the left stole a march on his rival by posting a sign that read: "Why pay $1.50 for a haircut? We'll do the job for 50 cents less!" Two hours later the barber on the right put up a sign twice as big. It announced: "We guarantee to repair $1 haircuts."

What's being whistled at these days?

THESE HOUSING UNITS now under construction at Tobyhanna across from the U. S. Signal Corps depot will serve as quarters for military personnel and custodial workers once the depot is in full swing. Presently about 25 per cent of the $1,600,000 project is complete, and all but four of the 14 units to be built are past the cellar wall stage.

Tobyhanna Housing Project Slowed By Winter Weather; About One-Fourth Finished

Tobyhanna—Winter weather threw a key block into the speed-up plans for the 200 housing unit development under construction here but building is about 25 per cent complete at this point, A. Kaplan, head of the contracting firm said yesterday.

Most of the barracks-type buildings already are above ground and only four of the 14 buildings are without cellar foundations to date, Kaplan said.

The $1,600,000 project got under way in September when ground was broken on the old parade site across from the U. S. Signal Corps Depot.

A. Kaplan & Son Ltd., general contractors from Englewood, N.J., are erecting the structure which will house military personnel and custodial workers at the depot.

The project, when complete, will have 128 two-bedroom units, 24 three-bedroom units and 48 one-bedroom units.

Kaplan said when the weather finally breaks he anticipates full-scale production. It was predicted at the outset of building that homes would be ready for occupancy in May.

Rinker and Kiefer, Stroudsburg, are the architect-engineers on the project and Koren Home Improvement Co. of East Stroudsburg holds the roofing, spouting, siding and sheeting contract of $33,000.

Construction was made possible by an agreement between the First National Bank of Scranton, Army Engineers and the Federal Housing Administration to advance Tobyhanna Village, Inc., a holding firm for the Kaplan concern, the necessary funds for building.

The agreement includes a 75-year lease with a 50-year recovery clause which would enable the

Stroudsburg Woman's Club Sponsors Heart Fund Drive

The Stroudsburg Woman's Club, with the approval of its president, Mrs. Walter H. Caulfield, has responded to the request of the Pennsylvania Heart Assn. to sponsor a Heart Fund Campaign in the Stroudsburgs.

Mrs. Parke W. Kunkle, first vice president, and Wellfare chairman of the club, is chairman of the Heart Fund campaign with Mrs. Will L. Kraemer as co-chairman.

With the assistance of Mrs. Alphonse J. Meyers, chairman of area division arrangements and Mrs. Ben I. Fansler, house to house committee chairman, a campaign has been planned that will open on Monday, Feb. 1 and continue through Monday night, Feb. 15 when club members and their committees will visit porch lighted homes for contributions to the Heart Fund.

Mrs. Roy E. Peterson has written 135 letters of appeal to organization presidents and other leading residents with the help of her committee.

Mrs. Irving B. Kiffin is in charge of newspaper and radio publicity and has prepared separate interviews with five doctors to be given over WYPO which will comprise questions and answers dealing with the major illnesses that cause heart damage.

Mrs. Harold E. Ingraham is chairman of the speakers' bureau and will distribute a number of announcements prepared by the Heart Assn. to be given at meetings of local clubs.

It is announced that 60 per cent of the contributions collected will be used for community service which gives heart patients here the privilege of going to the nearest neighboring clinics for a check-up, treatments and preventive education. It is further stated 25 per cent will be used for research and only 15 per cent for national and state maintenance.

Mrs. Kunkle and her committee have stated that the slogan "Help Your Heart Fund - Help Your Heart" if generously supported, the goal of $2,000 will be reached and can be your future investment in preserving your life and health and the life and health of your loved ones.

St. John's Luth. Brotherhood Plans Activities

The Brotherhood of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church at the first meeting of the new year with Parke W. Kunkle, the new president in charge, made a donation of $10 to St. John's Parish Aboad.

President Kunkle outlined plans for activities of the organization for the year ahead and named Frank Sprague as chairman of the sick committee and H. L. Kasper Jr., of the program committee.

Five new members were appointed as follows: W. A. Weber, Floyd Fetherman, Edward Shook, Charles Widmer and H. L. Kasper Jr.

Preceding the business meeting which was held Tuesday night in the church school room the members removed all the Christmas decorations in the church auditorium.

A committee composed of President Kunkle, Rev. Dr. P. N. Wobben and Richard Shook will have charge of the February meeting when there will be a social period and refreshments will be served. The Apostles' Creed will be the subject of discussion.

Every member is requested to bring an additional member for the February session of the group.

Camp 208 To Meet Tonight

Saylorsburg — Camp No. 208, P. O. of A., Saylorsburg, will have a game party tonight after lodge session, also a cake walk. Donations will be used for home and orphanage of the state. Birthdays for September, October and November will be honored.

Each one is asked to bring covered dish for lunch. During the business meeting nominations will be made for new officers.

Miss L. Neal Is Bride Of Elvin Swink

Miss Lila Jean Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Neal, of Saylorsburg, became the bride of Elvin Edward Swink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Swink, of Stroudsburg RD 2, Saturday, Jan. 23.

The ceremony was performed in the Christ Lutheran Church, Hamilton Square, at 2:30 p. m. by Rev. John B. Bergstresser, pastor, in the presence of many relatives and friends.

The church decorations consisted of two altar vases filled with white gladioli. Mrs. Velma Hartman, church organist, furnished suitable nuptial music preceding and during the ceremony. The soloist was Mrs. Elva Knowles, who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "O, Promise Me."

The bride who was given in marriage by her uncle, Paul Neal, of Wind Gap, wore a floor length gown of white chintilly lace and net over white dipper satin with long sleeves ending with points at her wrist, a three strand pearl necklace with pearl earrings. Hers was a white fingertip veil with a lace Juliet cap trimmed with white and black. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid and streamers of white satin ribbon intertwined with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Robley Neal, of 276 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron-of-honor. She was attired in a floor length strapless gown with tulle jacket of emerald yellow with net over underskirt. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations, yellow rosebuds and blue lilies in the center with blue satin ribbons.

Lawrence Swink, of Stroudsburg RD 1, was his brother's best man. The ushers were Glen Harps, of Stroudsburg RD 2, and Harold Frailey, of Stroudsburg.

The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue iridescent taffeta dress with navy blue and white accessories and an American Beauty rosebud corsage.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception at the Lake House, Saylorsburg, for about 200 guests. Decorations were canary yellow and white wedding bells and silver candlesticks. A three-tier wedding cake with miniature bride and bridegroom centered the bride's table.

The newlyweds left later on a honeymoon trip through the southern states. On their return, they will reside at Stroudsburg RD 2. For traveling, the bride wore a powder blue suit, dress trimmed with white fur and black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1951 and is employed in the office of Patterson-Kelley Co., East Stroudsburg. The bridegroom, graduate of the class of 1949, Stroudsburg High School, is employed at the Lehigh Valley Dairy, East Stroudsburg.

Brownie Troop Of Local Church Is One Year Old

Brownie Troop 39 celebrated its first anniversary in connection with the meeting held yesterday afternoon at the First Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. A birthday party was enjoyed. Mrs. John C. Glasson spoke to the group on birds and their habits.

Those in attendance were: Joan Altomose, Shirley Teleski, Shirley Billiard, Vickie Howitt, Nancy Metzgar, Pamela Tittle, Faye Vaughn, Nancy Aar, Suzanne Buck, Ann Demsky, Janice Fisher, Sylvia Granacher, Toni Heltgen, Barbara Polcher, Connie Puzio, and Robin Roth.

Leaders present were Mrs. Ruth Zetlemoyer, Mrs. Arlene Tittle and Mrs. Erma Fisher.

"Will anyone give me one good reason for THIS?" Gracie Grace demanded as she looked out the office window upon yesterday's sudden downpour with its accompanying flashes of lightning. In that moment, I couldn't. But I know now what was back of it all—those vacation schedules I was typing. After all, no vacation is complete without a few storms, is it? Why else were those handy folding umbrellas invented? (Incidentally, you'll find a nice assortment in our luggage and umbrella department.) ... Most of our Wyckoff employees take their vacations much later in the year than this, but some of you may be vacation-minded right this minute. Maybe you're heading for Nassau, (if so, I do hope our Travel Bureau was in on it!) New Orleans, or Miami. Wherever you're headed, if you want fun in the sun our sportswear department can outfit you in the cutest leisure-wear you've ever seen. We have shirts with fringe or with saucy buttons at eye-catching viewpoints. We have torador pants with shirring at the sides; shirts with saucy neckerchief collars; skirts that button on over your swimsuit in a jiffy and look smartly feminine. Oh, it's fine to be casual during your two-weeks-with-pay. But don't be casual about your casual clothes. They deserve thought, if they're to give anyone ideas. ... HERE'S REAL NEWS! Claude Miller tells me that all rummage sale prices will be slashed in half this morning. Anything that cost fifty cents yesterday will be a quarter today, and so on. I've also learned that a number of departments have sent more merchandise upstairs to the sale. Baskets, for instance. I just happened to be wandering through housewares when Mary Hitesman shipped three beautiful... perfect marketing companions, and not an earthly thing wrong with them except that they were taking up space. ... If I have spots before my eyes at the moment it's not bad. Not bad at all—for each of the spots is a pretty color and marks the location of some interesting site in greater Manhattan. The planetarium is blue; Yankee stadium is orange; and the Empire State Building is pink. In the very center of the map is a big white patch, showing the location of the fabulous Waldorf-Astoria. The Waldorf is mentioned in the same tone most of us reserve for Buckingham Palace and the Taj Mahal—a tone that denotes respect for something which is beautiful, glamorous, widely recognized and universally esteemed. Funny thing, but most of us would never dream of going there when we are in New York. We have come to associate the name with Cholly Knickerbocker, the 490, and vast wealth. We have been overpowered by its title—"The Unofficial Palace of New York." Yet a weekend at the Waldorf is actually within the reach of almost everyone. A special plan is now announced by our Travel Bureau, by which you can spend three days and two nights there for only $35 including tax, or two days and one night for $25. This is the double occupancy rate. Single accommodations are more expensive. It seems unbelievable, but this rate includes dinner in the Empire Room or Starlight Roof, breakfast in bed or Norse Grill, and other features. Anyone would enjoy such a holiday, but I personally suggest it for honeymoon couples. "We honeymooned at the Waldorf," you might say. Now THERE'S a memory to treasure! ... Have you made your reservation for Monday night's excursion to Madison Square Garden? I'm told that this year's ice revue is incredible; as smooth as the ice is presented upon. Tickets are being sold in our men's department. ... Newcomers to the Stroudsburgs were entertained at tea yesterday in our Tea Room with Betty Bartholomew acting as hostess, and Walter Wyckoff guiding the guests on a store-wide tour. The greatest thrill for me was hearing one of the ladies say that during her stay in Germany with her serviceman husband, she read "The Wyckoff Shopper" regularly. "Sometimes it was a month late," she explained, "but I always read it." Wonder if there's anyone in the world who hasn't heard of Wyckoff's? Sometimes it seems not, and are we proud!

a navy blue iridescent taffeta dress with navy blue and white accessories and an American Beauty rosebud corsage.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception at the Lake House, Saylorsburg, for about 200 guests. Decorations were canary yellow and white wedding bells and silver candlesticks. A three-tier wedding cake with miniature bride and bridegroom centered the bride's table.

The newlyweds left later on a honeymoon trip through the southern states. On their return, they will reside at Stroudsburg RD 2. For traveling, the bride wore a powder blue suit, dress trimmed with white fur and black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1951 and is employed in the office of Patterson-Kelley Co., East Stroudsburg. The bridegroom, graduate of the class of 1949, Stroudsburg High School, is employed at the Lehigh Valley Dairy, East Stroudsburg.

Bible Class Donates $100 Church Fund

Canadensis — The Friendly Bible class of the Canadensis Methodist Church voted a donation of $100 toward the church building fund at the meeting held Monday night, Jan. 25, at the home of Mrs. Roy Price.

The class discussed the matter of furnishing new draperies for the Bible class-Sunday school room and Kathryn Thomas and Evelyn Hugenin were named a committee to look into the matter.

The class decided to send a plant to Mrs. Luna Oakes who is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Blitz.

A social followed the business session when refreshments were served. Those present were: Elsie Vernoy, Rev. and Mrs. Edgar B. Moore, Beulah Siglin, Helen Clark, Liza Price, Gladys Cairney, Janet Brush, Eleanor Cole, Kathryn Thomas, Evelyn Hugenin and the hostess, Elsie Price.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

St. John's Luth. Brotherhood Plans Activities

The Brotherhood of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church at the first meeting of the new year with Parke W. Kunkle, the new president in charge, made a donation of $10 to St. John's Parish Aboad.

President Kunkle outlined plans for activities of the organization for the year ahead and named Frank Sprague as chairman of the sick committee and H. L. Kasper Jr., of the program committee.

Five new members were appointed as follows: W. A. Weber, Floyd Fetherman, Edward Shook, Charles Widmer and H. L. Kasper Jr.

County YMCA Observing Special Week

This is National YMCA Week. Monroe County YMCA is marking the event with special events and programs.

Sunday of last week and Sunday, Jan. 31 have been set aside in many county churches as "YMCA Sundays." Sermons dealing with the history of the organization have been given by many local ministers, generally pointing up the close cooperation between churches and the Y.

The Indian Lore Group of the Barrett branch Y will take a trip to New York City this weekend in celebration of the week-long observance.

Barrett members plan to visit museums and Indian supply houses in order to study the past history of the American native. The group is also in the process of making dancing costumes in its study of Indian arts and crafts.

The group plans to stay overnight at one of the Y's in New York.

Next week, members of the younger boys clubs will begin a candy sales program in which profits will go to the Y's world service program.

This program helps other nations develop Y organizations such as those found in this country.

The slogan for the candy sale will be: "A Helping Hand for the Youth of the World."

The Young Men's Christian Association is now more than 100 years old in America. There are more than 1,500 different Y's with a membership of three and one-half million.

Social Security Taxes Paid By Self Employed

By AP Newsfeatures

Washington—Did you work for yourself in 1953? You follow the same rules as employees, but you probably have a special social security payment to make.

An employee pays 1½ per cent on the first $3,600 he earns. His employer pays another 1½ per cent. But if you were your own employer, you pay only half the employer's share plus the employee's share. That total's 2½ per cent of the first $3,600 income. You must pay if you had income of $400 or more.

But there are exceptions. Among those who do not make such payments are: farmers, railroad workers, public officials, lawyers, doctors, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors, optometrists, funeral directors, professional engineers, clergymen and public accountants.

What if you worked for yourself part time and for others part time? If your employer made social security deductions from $3,600 income, that takes care of your social security. If such earnings were less than $3,600 you pay 2½ per cent on anything up to $3,600 not covered by your income from which social security tax was deducted.

Carl E. Frenzel, chief clerk to superintendent at Scranton, will be advanced to supervisor of stations and transfers at Hoboken.

Louis A. Hillman freight agent at Binghamton, N. Y., will succeed Mr. Frenzel at Scranton.

P. T. Jones, chief clerk at Johnson City, N. Y., will be promoted to freight agent at Binghamton.

Not All Money Wage-Earner Receives Is Subject To Tax

(Third of Six Articles)
By Frank O'Brien

Washington (AP)—You do not have to pay income tax on all the money you earn. The law provides deductions for expenses and exemptions of $600 each for most persons, including yourself, who live off your income. Together, they are a kind of non-taxed living allowance.

There are two kinds of deductions.

First, there are business expenses. You take most, but not always all of these out of your income to find your adjusted gross income. Second come personal deductions which you subtract from your adjusted gross income to find your net income. (Then you subtract your exemptions to find your net taxable income.)

There are three main kinds of business expense.

One—You may deduct all the "ordinary and necessary" expenses of any business you operate, or of your trade or profession. You report them on a special form called "Schedule C" which you can get from post office or bank. Then you summarize them on Page 2, Form 1040.

Two—An employee may deduct cost of meals and lodgings when he is away from home on his employer's business, but not unless he stays overnight. He can also deduct business transport costs whether he stays overnight or not, although this does not usually include going to and from work.

There is a technical gimmick in putting such expenses on the tax form. You must add to your income what your employer repaid you for such expenses. Then you deduct the actual expenses whether more or less than what was repaid.

Three—Other expenses like journals, magazines and business entertainment costs may be deducted to the extent that your employer pays them back to you. (If they are not paid back they may be deducted as personal expenses.) The add and subtract rules apply here as with transport costs, with this difference: You may deduct from your income only the amount repaid to you, not more.

In addition you can deduct expenses connected with property from which you get rent and capital losses up to $1,000, except that a loss in selling your home does not count. It is not deductible.

You can make all such deductions and still use short Form 1040. Then come the personal deductions.

On Page 3 of Form 1040 are listed six headings under which personal expenses can be itemized. You can ignore itemization and take the standard 10 per cent. But that is limited to $500 for married people who file separately and $1,000 for others or joint returns.

If your itemized personal expenses are larger than 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income up to specified limits given in the instructions (if you are over 65 you get all medical costs up to the dollar limits; group hospitalization premiums; alimony or separate maintenance ordered by a court; union dues. Expenses repaid by insurance are not deductible.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Gene Martin, head football coach and dean of men at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, made his debut as junior varsity basketball mentor last night, when the ESSTC yearlings opposed Orange County Community Center in the first of two games at the Normal Hill gymnasium. Martin handled the junior varsity chores three years ago, so the job isn't entirely strange to the veteran football figure. Ed Shay, regular varsity figure, has taken charge of gym team and the great amount of work required in both jobs forced Shay to relinquish command of the basketball squad.

The change in coaches was made necessary through the absence of Oscar J. Liljenstein athletic director and gym team coach, who is a patient at the Monroe County General Hospital. Shea will be assisted by Mary Whitenight, who has worked with Liljenstein in recent years. Miss Whitenight is also coach of the girls' tennis team at the local college. Jack Newell, former Stroudsburg High basketball and baseball star, made his first appearance in an ESSTC varsity basketball uniform last night. The same is true of Frank Stull, former Wilson Borough court and diamond star.

Basketball fans in at least two communities in Monroe County are upset over the fact that one of the schools in the Monroe County League has fastened the nets on its baskets upside down. The fans argue that a team not used to such a sight is hampered by the change and thus the home contingent is aided. What does the rule book say? It is quite possible that we may have two truly big stories before May, one dealing with basketball and the other with football. I believe both will come as surprises, that is if they materialize.

Bill Frear, second baseman of the Pocono A.C. entry in the Blue Mountain Baseball League last summer, graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College last week and is now employed at Line Material. Bill has again entered Pocono A.C. in the area diamond loop, one that appears destined to be better than ever this season. I certainly hope the lanky infielder can get some help, both actual and financial. Last year it was pretty much all Frear's work that kept the club in action, especially during the fading weeks of the campaign. Many communities much smaller than both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg support their diamond organizations in much better fashion than our own two boroughs.

Steve Honzo, one of the officials at Monday's Blue Mountain League basketball game between the Stroudsburg Poconos and Nazareth has worked nine games in the National Basketball Association, plus many college tilts this season. Last weekend Steve flew from Allentown to Baltimore and from Baltimore to Syracuse to cover NBA contests. Monday's officiating was truly good, as the other man with the whistle was likewise. Gene Hartzell, veteran baseball, football and basketball official in this area, Hartzell was one of the men with the whistle last Thanksgiving Day, when East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg clashed in football at Giffels field.

Last week this scribe witnessed portions of two scholastic court struggles in one night and saw a controversial play called two different ways. A team obtained possession of the ball in its own back court in both games and was preparing to move down court when one of its players was hurt. One set of officials halted play, while the other set allowed the action to continue. Since the offensive team wasn't actually in offensive motion, which was the right call?

John Gallagher's Seranton Prep won the first half championship in the Lackawanna Catholic League last Friday by one point in a special playoff with Carbondale's St. Rose. Gallagher, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, watched his charges suffer their first defeat in 45 games during the first half of the campaign. Prep won twice over St. Rose, counting the playoff, in the first half of the present campaign. Gallagher is well known as a basketball official in Wayne County.

J. H. Stoner, local industrialist, has promised three tickets to any three major league baseball games to boys attending the Father and Son banquet at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church on Tuesday. Karl Weingerter, three-letter athlete at Stroudsburg High, has been accepted at both Muhlenberg and Moravian Colleges, if he would like to attend either of these two institutions. Karl has yet to make a final decision. Tom Phillips, center for the Poconos, will be lost to that Blue Mountain League basketball club for two weeks beginning February 7. The lanky centerman will be honeymooning in Florida.

Stan Palys, former center fielder with Carbondale, once a member of the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League, appears destined to get a real shot at the right field job with the Phillies this spring.

Stroudsburg Shades East Stroudsburg, 69-66

Late Rally By Cavaliers Falls Short

A substituted spotted Stroudsburg High basketball team halted a desperation rally by East Stroudsburg before a jam-packed crowd in the W. Main St. gymnasium last night to win the first of two meetings of the neighboring schools on the basketball court, 69-66.

East Stroudsburg, trailing by 12 points when the final quarter got underway, appeared to be hopelessly out of the running as late as midway in the final round. But, the eagle-eye shooting of Paul Turner from 20 feet out and some good work under the boards by Don Herman carried the Cavaliers to within two points of the Mountaineers with 20 seconds remaining.

Stroudsburg's tight defense and a burst of speed in the third period broke wide open a game that had been nip-and-tuck through the first half, with the visiting Cavaliers on the long end of a 37-35 count at the halfway mark.

The Mountaineers broke from the leash with the beginning of the third quarter as Karl Weingerter tied the score with a left handed shot, and a foul shot by Dick Little put the Mountaineers in front for the first time since the first period. Weingerter came back with another field goal and Stroudsburg was on the way.

Big Margin

East Stroudsburg trailed 59-47 going into the last quarter, after being outscored in the third frame, 24-10.

It was at this point in the contest that Turner began to find the mark with long shots and from the foul line, as the charges of Coach Dick Forster inched forward and ended by only six points with two minutes remaining in the contest. The Cavaliers missed countless opportunities to at least tie the count in the last quarter, when they blew 10 foul shots in the last eight minutes, two by Bill Pensyl with 20 seconds remaining on the clock and the Cavaliers trailing 68-66. Weingerter led the contest 15 seconds later with a charity conversion.

Stroudsburg's tight defense proved too tough for the Cavaliers in the second half, although the scoring of Herman and Turner in the last quarter almost turned what appeared to be certain defeat into victory.

Doug Shook and Bob "Red" Kupiszewski traded field goals in the early minutes of the first quarter. Chase added a foul, but Shook came back with another two-point, only to have Pensyl ram home a foul shot to even the score at 2-4.

The score was tied four times in the opening round, 4-4, 6-6, 13-13 and 15-15, and the advantage changed hands no fewer than four times before the Cavaliers went ahead at the end of the round, 19-16.

East Stroudsburg led by as many as five points in the second period, 37-32, but Stroudsburg closed strong to trail by only two counts at halftime, 37-35, as the huge crowd warmed up to its cheering task.

Foul Shooting

The Cavaliers made only 18 of 43 charity tosses, including a mark of 11 for 27 in the second half. Stroudsburg didn't set the world on fire from the charity stripe, but did make 15 of 30, a mark good enough to preserve victory.

Both teams were hampered by personal fouls throughout the ball game, but only Stroudsburg lost players via the five-foul rule. Shook was waved to the bench with four minutes and 45 seconds remaining in the game and Little left with 20 seconds still to be ticked off the clock.

Nevil and Little led the Stroudsburg offense with 23 and 16 points respectively. Nevil picked up 20 of his points in the first three periods. Every member of the Stroudsburg team scored at least one point.

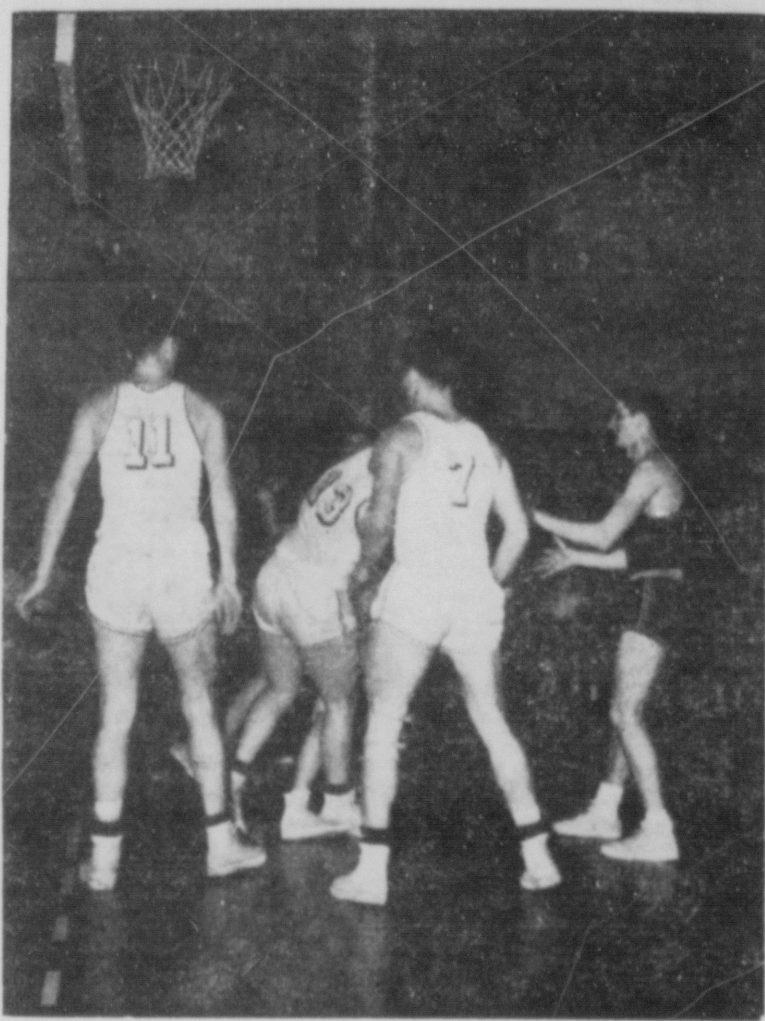

Turner and Pensyl paced East Stroudsburg with 15 points each, while five members of the losing team broke into double figures in the scoring column.

East Stroudsburg gained a measure of revenge from Stroudsburg by winning the junior varsity encounter, 61-45.

ESSTC Captures First Cage Nod

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College broke the win famine in basketball last night with a 73-67 victory over Wilkes College last night on the Normal Hill hardwood.

The victory was the first of the season for the charges of Coach Chris Denis, after absorbing six straight setbacks.

Wilbur Smith set the spark for the Warriors in the second half, as he racked up 10 points and paced the home team from a deficit into the credit column.

Warriors Split Two Events With Orange

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and the Orange County Community Center divided victories in a pair of athletic events last night, one official and the other non-official.

Orange County won an official junior varsity basketball game, 57-56, despite the high scoring antics of the home team's Walt Bjorn.

Bjorn, former Wayne County Conference star from Damascus Hall, tallied 14 points for the charges of Coach Gene Martin who just missed earning the victory.

ESSTC scored a 33-5 victory in a practice wrestling meet with the Orange County Community Center, as each team used nine grapplers, although the usual meet consists of eight wrestlers on each side.

The Warriors lost only in the 175-pound class, when Charley Shaw suffered a shoulder injury and had to default the match.

Moore Retains Light Heavy Championship By Pounding Maxim Into Defeat

By Murray Rose

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore floored Joey Maxim twice, with smashing rights and handed him a savage beating last night to score his third straight title victory over the former titleholder.

The 37-year-old 175-pound king, who entered the ring as a 6-5 underdog in a surprising late shift of odds, sent the 31-year-old Cleveland crasher to the canvas for a six count in the eighth round and a seven count in the 11th.

This was the most impressive of the three wins the ancient St. Louis-born Negro has racked up against the light-hitting but dead-glove Maxim.

Moore gave Joey a good shelling when he took the title from Maxim in St. Louis December 17, 1952, but he never was able to floor him. In their second fight in Ogden, Utah, June 24, 1953, Archie barely squeezed through for a narrow decision win.

Unanimous

The votes of the three officials were unanimous and that came as no surprise to the crowd of 16,375 that paid an estimated $89,000 for the nationally telecast and broadcast 15-rounder.

Referee Cy Gottfried had it 145-137. Judge Marty Monroe, 148-135 and Judge Mark Erwin, 148-134. The AP card had Moore the winner, 148-131.

Points were awarded under the new NBA system calling for 10 points for the winner of the round and nine or less to the loser. For an even round, each gets 10 points.

UP IN AIR — Bob "Red" Kupiszewski (10), East Stroudsburg, is pictured above launching a field goal attempt in the second period of last night's basketball thriller with Stroudsburg. Other Cavaliers pictured are Bill Pensyl and Howard Smith (12). The Stroudsburg cagers are Don Garaventi (4), Dave Nevil (13) and Don Diebler (6) Stroudsburg went on to score a 69-66 victory.

Phillipsburg Spurts To Sink Bangor

Bangor — Bangor High stepped into the independent basketball ranks for one game last night and the Lehigh-Northampton League entry finished second best in a tussle with Phillipsburg High, 61-55, here on the losing squad's home boards.

The host aggregation jumped into a 7-1 lead in the early seconds of the first period, but was unable to hold the advantage against Phillipsburg's rush, although Bangor did lead at the end of the initial stanza, 14-13.

Bangor retained the front running spot at halftime, 26-24, although Phillipsburg was very much in the fight all the way.

Tide Changes

Wayne Pysker opened with a field goal, but had to come back a few minutes later with another doubleheader to tie the count 31-31 as Phillipsburg began to make its move. The score was deadlocked once again at 38-all, but the Garnet entered the final round on the long end of a 42-38 count.

Bangor fought back to tie Phillipsburg at 52-all on a field goal by Gary Wynne, with two minutes remaining, but the visiting five pulled away in the fading seconds to earn the nod, as Pysker, Wynne and Rodney Miller departed early on fouls.

Phillipsburg also won the junior varsity contest, 58-43.

Color, Oddities, Sour Notes Present In 'Battle Of Boroughs'

Color was everywhere last night as Stroudsburg squeezed out a 69-66 basketball victory over East Stroudsburg, on the former's home court. There was color and odd occurrences all over the place, both on the court and in the crowd.

Sportsmanship on the playing court was tremendous as the two arch rivals clashed again. The conduct of the players during the basketball version of the "Battle of the Boroughs" was equal to that displayed by the football teams of the same schools, but the conduct of the crowd left something to be desired. The constant booing of the crowd, from both sides, was the worst in years.

Official Howard Kresge who halted the game at one point in the final period to reprimand the crowd is to be complimented for his work, as is John Kimmock, the other official who is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. As in virtually every sport, the crowd can certainly take lessons from the players. Adults even more than children.

Dr. Frank P. Maguire, commissioner of Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Athletic Association officials, was an interested spectator at last night's tussle, as was Marty Baldwin, local sportsman. It was the first time this season that Marty has seen the Mountaineers in action.

Sam Russell, coach of Wilson Borough High and former Stroudsburg mentor, watched last night's battle in the role of a spectator. Sam was warmly congratulated by his many friends for winning the first half championship in the Lehigh-Northampton League this season.

Eddie Judge led a contingent of fans from the Pocono Pines area down to watch the game. Bill Pensyl, secretary-treasurer of the Blue Mountain Basketball League, was also on hand rooting for Bill Jr. and the Cavaliers.

Both teams at one time or another had four football players in the lineup last night, all of whom opposed each other last Thanksgiving Day, when East Stroudsburg scored a 16-7 victory.

Wildcats, Trotters Gain Nods In Ramsey-Morey Basketball

Wildcats and Trotters won basketball games in the Ramsey-Morey Intramural League this week by almost identical scores. The games were played on the Ramsey School court.

Billy Schoonover proved to be a one-man team as he scored all of the Wildcats points in a 14-13 nod over the Eagles. Schoonover did the damage on seven field goals.

His mates blanked the Eagles in the second period, while Schoonover fired home four field goals.

Three Scorers

The Trotters featured three men in the scoring column while taking the measure of the Panthers, 15-13. Kemmerer led the way with 10 points.

Bangor Girls Fall Before Easton High Cagers, 61-31

Easton—Bangor High suffered defeat in a girls' basketball game with Easton High on Tuesday afternoon, 61-31, here on the Easton school's court.

Bangor's girls, despite 22 points by Mary Jane DeCesare, were never able to hold Easton in check, as the winning club led from start to finish.

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST

WINTER CAMP TIPS

FACE 2 TARPS OR LEAN TO TENTS TOWARD EACH OTHER, AS ABOVE. SUPPORT EACH OTHER'S RIDGEPOLE UPON FORKED POLES. TIE A ROPE BETWEEN OPPOSING ENDS FOR STABILITY. KEEP RIDGEPOLES SEPARATED ENOUGH SO THAT A SMALL FIRE CAN BE SAFELY BUILT BETWEEN THE SHELTERS. IN RAINY WEATHER AN EXTRA TARP MAY BE STRETCHED TO COVER CENTER AREA WHEN A FIRE ISN'T USED INSIDE.

AVOID THE BOTTOM OF CAN-YONS WHERE COLD AIR DESCENDS IN A WIND AT NIGHT. SELECT A HIGHER, PROTECTED CAMP SITE.

YMCA League Lists Action

Two basketball games are on tap for the Senior YMCA League tonight, both to be played on the Stroudsburg High school court.

Action in the opening encounter will get underway at 7:15 p.m. and the nighttime will begin approximately one hour later.

The opening game will pit Penn-Dell against league leading Frank's Barbers, while Worthington Mower tangles with Biggs' Restaurant in the nighttime.

YMCA League cagers clash each Thursday on the Stroudsburg High hardwood.

Poconos Set To Oppose Portland Five

Stroudsburg's Poconos, currently locked in a fight for first place in the Blue Mountain Basketball League with Weston A. C., returns to the court vars today against Portland A. C.

The contest will be played on the Portland School court at 8 p.m.

Lineup
Coach Tom Shiffer's Stroudsburg club will probably answer the starting whistle with Harvey "Hotsey" Bergman and Henry "Hank" Stettler at the forward slots and Tom Phillips, center. The guards will be either Tom Somers, Paul "Muff" Warnick or Jim "Bunky" Smith.

Shiffer also announced that his troupe would leave from in front of DeVivo's Shoe Repair at 7:15 p.m. No other games are listed in the Blue Mountain League today, but the Grand Theater tangles with third place Hackettstown tomorrow, on the East Stroudsburg High court, also at 8 p.m.

E. W. Sayer Candidate For Office

Mt. Bethel—E. W. Sayer, farm equipment dealer here, said yesterday he will seek the Democratic nomination for representative in the General Assembly from Northampton County's Second District.

Sayer's announcement says he is not only opposed to a sales tax, but "has two alternate plans in mind."

He is an industrial engineer and efficiency expert, with employment experience with Radio Corp. of America before he entered the automobile and farm equipment business in 1946.

Mr. Sayer has been a property owner resident of Upper Mt. Bethel Township 21 years. He is the father of four children, oldest of which is attending Lafayette College. His wife, the former Mary Kern, is a Bangor school teacher. James Gaffney, Easton, and Elwood Good, Bangor RD3, are also seeking the Democratic nomination for assemblyman in the Second District.

Help For Jobless

Washington (AP) — CIO President Walter Reuther, seeking government aid to alleviate unemployment in auto making centers, said Tuesday Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming indicated that 20 per cent of all government contracts will be set aside for channeling into areas hard hit by job layoffs.

Motorists Face Two Deadlines

There's a double deadline for drivers this Sunday at midnight. At that minute precisely, two things happen:

Your old inspection seal has expired.

Your 1953 driver's license is no longer effective.

If your car has been inspected recently, you're okay for another half-year. If it has not been inspected during November, December or this month you have just three working days left to get it done.

The same is true for your driver's license. If you have not mailed your application in to the State better get it in the mails immediately.

The license should be in your possession no later than midnight Sunday.

State police in this area urged residents to remember last night that the current inspection deadline includes all motor vehicles. Whether you're driving a car or a truck, the new inspection sticker must be on at midnight Sunday.

The law was changed during the last session of the legislature so that trucks and passenger cars will be separated during inspection periods. This law does not become effective, however, until Aug. 1 this year.

County Sportsmen's Group Ranks Third In Division In Membership Percentage

The Monroe County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs with five local units and a total of 1,298 paid members in the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs ranked third among the eight county units of the Northeastern division during 1953, according to Joseph H. Barkley, of Pottstown, president of the PFSC.

With 1,298 state paid memberships against 6,141 resident hunting licenses sold within Monroe County during the same period, the local group had a rating of 21.14 per cent in organizational strength. Other units of the N. E. division and their ratings, as announced by Barkley, were: Carbon, 37.05%; Susquehanna, 23.78%; Wyoming, 12.88%; Lackawanna, 10.74%; Wayne, 5.55%; and Luzerne, 2.13%. Pike County, included in the northeastern district, is unorganized.

On a statewide basis, Lehigh County with 29 clubs and a paid membership of 13,374 against 12,802 resident hunting licenses sold was tops with 104.47%. Northampton County was second at 75.86%, and Berks County third with 64.86%.

Jacob Kintz of 802 Monroe St., Stroudsburg, was listed as the Monroe County president during 1953. Other active officers included: Willis F. Goddard, 879 Scott St., Stroudsburg, secretary and official delegate to the division and state conventions, and John B. Durkee, 2149 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, alternate delegate.

The individual club listings for Monroe County and their respective memberships in the PFSC directory for 1953 included: Kunkletown Rod and Gun Club, 300;

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1954
March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — See things as they are, and six you would like them to be. Difficulties you anticipate may be only in your mind. You have the facilities to arrive at the right conclusions if you work at them.
April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Don't get too deeply involved in non-essentials. The outlook is good, so have personal or monetary gains your daily outlook. You will have a keen mind. You should not let your progress be hindered by tactlessness, thoughtless words.
May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — An unusual period. Situation of which the best is relatively good, but you are in the most profitable and vice versa.
June 22 to July 21 (Cancer) — Some extra rest plus, clear thinking, can give you the edge needed to put over your day successfully. News from unexpected sources may help you carry on satisfactorily.
July 22 to August 21 (Leo) — Both heart interests and money matters can be smoothly handled, though they could clash if not so treated. Romance may be formed in your mind, but should wait if other worthy matters loom.
August 22 to September 21 (Virgo) — Because your affairs have been sailing along in smooth style, does not mean you should expect things to continue in this manner. To shirk your own duties, to shirk your own activities, consider all angles.
September 22 to October 21 (Libra) — There is need to fortify your future periods. 1954 will not be the easiest period, don't take things too lightly.
October 22 to November 21 (Scorpio) — You may have some important decisions to make today, so keep your mind open and unbiased. Minimize an even disposition. No antipathy to me later!
November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — The scales tip slightly in your favor, especially toward afternoon. Mind your answers and you should have little to fear in reaching desired goal.
December 22 to January 21 (Capricorn) — If you will consider other lines personal or monetary gains your daily outlook will dissolve automatically. Don't retard your progress by social standing by tactlessness, thoughtless words.
January 22 to February 21 (Aquarius) — By showing your better self you will have the advantage at the start. Though you have a keen mind you often don't push to advance as you could. Do it now!
February 22 to March 21 (Pisces) — You clever but at times over-anxious with a little extra effort now. Persons and occupational matters can make appreciable headway. But don't rush things.
You! BORN TODAY are under American Sign of the Air Tri-plety. A Sign of extremes. Many of the weakest and most changeable are in this Sign and many of the strongest and most worthy too. You are often light-hearted, seldom become nervous, but you lack strength of purpose, are easily governed, get careless. You could, by taking hold by taking hold of yourself, praying and determining to reach those high goals. The financial traits of Aquarius are so good that once aroused, they are of great benefit to mankind. Birthdate of John Hancock, noted English printer.

Assessment Discussion Scheduled

Kresgeville — A public meeting featuring a discussion of assessment equalization and reassessment will be held here Friday at 8 p. m. in the Kresgeville Hotel. All citizens are invited.

Nick Peal, Northampton County commissioner and an expert with extensive practical experience with assessment equalization, will be the speaker.

Mrs. John Shotwell, president of the West End Republican Club — sponsors of the meeting — said the entire meeting will be devoted to the assessment subject. Mrs. Shotwell extended an invitation to all citizens.

Quig, Whelan To Attend Bank Clinic

Fred P. Quig and Paul D. Whelan, Stroudsburg Security Trust Co., are among a group of more than 400 bank personnel who will attend the Pennsylvania Bankers Association Bank Operations Clinic at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 3-4.

The clinic is sponsored by the association in cooperation with the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce at the university. Bankers from all parts of the state will attend the two-day workshop to discuss latest ideas and techniques on bank operations.

Highlights of the program include a feature address by Treasurer of the United States Ivy Baker Priest, and panel discussions on Pennsylvania's new Uniform Commercial Code and on tax problems of banks.

Other subjects to be discussed are: "Trend of Savings Deposits and Interest Rates," "Fraudulent Check Operators," "New Ideas as an Asset," and "Accounting for Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. Assessments."

Famous Last Words:

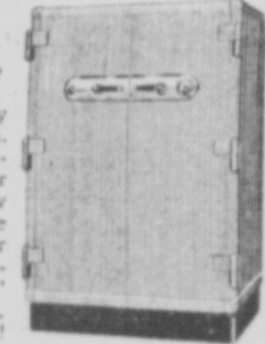

"IT WAS GOOD ENOUGH FOR MY GRANDFATHER... and by golly, that old safe is protection enough for my business records, too!"

Trouble is, many grandsons aren't so lucky as Grand. They have a fire. And any safe without the independent Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. label is apt to incinerate business records. Fireproof buildings just wall-in and intensify the fire. And fire insurance policies say: "Proof-of-loss must be rendered within 60 days." Virtually impossible without records. Result: 43 out of 100 firms that lose their records by fire never reopen!

Don't risk it!

Come in... see how little it costs for the safe that aged all other safes 30 years—overnight!
